Lampshade Class Slate Is Announced

Lampshade classes, as part of the Adult Education program in the area, will open Monday, Sept. 16, at 7 p.m. for all interested women in the vicinity, under the direction of Mrs. Viola Boas.

In discussing these classes Mrs. Boas said, "Your lampshade is never an accessory, it gives personality to your room. It can make or mar the charm, beauty, warmth and the air of welcome your home extends." For this reason, the instructor pointed out that each lampshade should be specifically designed.

In this course, the principles of interior decorating are carefully considered. The type of home is studied, Victorian, Early American, Provincial, Modern, Contemporary, etc. The size and shape of rooms and furnishings are important with an understanding of colors and fabrics in their proper relations.

Students are also taught a definite understanding of effect of light on color and through color to enhance the charm of any room.

Mrs. Boas, who has conducted the classes for some time, says, "Anyone who can hold a needle, can make a lampshade." Registration will be held in the classrooms and instructions start the opening night.

The schedule is as follows: Sept. 16, 7 p.m. at Newton School, Nancy Lee Lane, west of the Fish Shanty; Sept. 17, Tuesday, 7 p.m., Mira Costa High School, Peck and Gould Lane, Manhattan Beach; Sept. 18, Wednesday, 7 p.m., North Torrance High, 182nd and Yukon; Sept. 19, Thursday, 1 p.m., Walteria Park Recreation Center, 101 Hwy. and Hawthorne; Sept. 19, Thursday, 7 p.m., Mira Costa High School, Peck and Gould Lane.

Faith in Their Woman Coach, Oaks' Team Rests on Laurels

By VONDA CARLTON

Never underestimate the power of a woman.

The wisdom of this maxim will be attested to by fans of the Little Coast League's Oaks team.

The youngsters, who won the Division Two championship, are coached by a woman. Mrs. Edith Porter of Torrance, whose son Jiggs plays on the team, brought the boys through the season with a 17-3 win record.

But not without the usual ribs about women on the baseball fields.

The team took its share of ribbing, Mrs. Porter relates. "But they never mentioned it to me."

"Not only are the boys the best behaved team in the league, but they are top players," the coach said.

The Oaks lost out in the final play-offs between the two divisions last week. But they went on to place three players on the All-Star Team.

A good record, all agree, for a coach who had never mentored a baseball team until last year.

Jiggs Porter's team suddenly found themselves without a coach last season, so Mrs. Porter stepped in.

"I spent lots of time reading baseball manuals and attending coaches' meetings," the slender dark-haired woman admits.

She, herself, never played baseball, except at school. "I like sports and the kids' league caught my interest," she said.

Mrs. Porter, in addition to her coaching chores, is a department clerk at Northrop Aircraft in Missile Publications. She works 10 hours a day at her job.

Coming home from work, she changes clothes and hurries to the ball park. She does this four nights a week and then again on Saturday morning.

A busy schedule, Mrs. Porter feels, but a very worthwhile one.

Her 10-year-old daughter Wanda, gets into the act too. "She's the team's most ardent supporter."

Haldale

Twenty board members of Haldale PTA and their children enjoyed a pot luck picnic at the Torrance Park Aug. 21.

Mrs. Wilhelm regrets that due to the builders' strike some classes will be on half day session until the bungalows are finished.
